

THE MORNING APPEAL.

FRIDAY, MARCH 1

TARDY TRIBUTE TO REALF.

In October, 1878, Richard Realf, one of the sweetest singers of his day, committed suicide in Oakland. But little was known of him beyond a small circle of devoted friends and his remains were laid away in the Grand Army plot of the Odd Fellows Cemetery. He was laid away to rest without pomp or ceremony and soon joined the ranks of the nameless and forgotten dead. But his poems and writings kept his memory green; not in California where he spent so many bitter years, and where his abilities were unappreciated, but in England, his birthplace. He had warm friends there in the spot where the echoes of his golden lyre had not died away, and recently a party of Englishmen arrived in California for the purpose of finding his neglected grave and placing a monument over it. It must have surprised his friends to learn that a man of such phenomenal mental gifts, had been allowed to die unrecognized, for they had to search a long time to find any one who knew where his grave was.

His writings had been long valued by the Eastern and English magazines, but in California where he lived, his works aroused neither interest nor enthusiasm. He was touched with the genuine fire of genius and during the last sad and melancholy years of his life gave the world poems that came from his heart like the saddened music of Poe's refrains.

California claims to be the State of culture and literary appreciation above all the west, but the man who would succeed there will, if he reads the lesson of Richard Realf's sad fate aright, find more fame and ready pelf in running a beer dive or a commission house for the sale of hides and tallow.

Free Coinage Democrats.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The Silver men have drafted a declaration addressed to the Democrats of the United States, and outlining a financial policy for the Democratic party. In substance it states that the financial policy of the party is for free coinage of gold and silver on terms of equality at the ratio of 16 to 1; for the issue of all paper money by the Government without the intervention of banks, and opposition to any issue of interest-bearing bonds without the authority of a special Act of Congress. Attention is called to the movement said to be under way through the efforts of the opponents of free silver in the party to secure the election of gold men as delegates to the party conventions, and particularly to the nomination of a single standard gold man for the Presidency. The Democrats are charged to oppose the movement, and to see to it that none but free silver men are elected to positions of influence in the party and to represent them in all conventions. If the support of a majority of the party in Congress can be pledged to this financial platform it is intended to issue a manifesto to the Democrats of the United States within a few days.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

By an act of Congress, approved December 13, 1894, all land warrants and surveyor-general's script issued under the act of June 2, 1858, are made receivable, without fees, at any U. S. land office at the rate of $1.25 per acre in payment for commuted homesteads, desert entries, timber and stone entries, timber culture entries and lands purchased at public auction, unless the land was purchased from an Indian tribe within ten years past.

The script can be obtained for from $1.12 to $1.15 per acre and saves the entryman the difference between that and $1.25 per acre.

Illinois appropriates $67,400 to prepare and erect granite monuments to make the petitions of the Illinois regiment at Chickamagua. That is as it should be. Illinois was splendidly represented on that great day, and she appropriates that money to mark the spot where so many of her children died, is an evidence that the men of Illinois are clear-brained men, who understand that the nation that forgets the men who died for it, in a little while becomes a nation that is not worth dying for.—Salt Lake Tribune.

The bill allowing fish to be caught in all seasons of the year is a very ill-advised piece of legislation. It allows fish to be caught in the spawning season, when they are sluggish and heavy with roe, and each fish thus destroyed means less fish in the next season. In five years this law would depopulate all the fish streams in this State.

The secret of Mrs. J. Coleman Drayton's sudden resolution to contest her husband's divorce suit and make the fight in open court is revealed. Her boldness is due to the fact that a coachman, who would have been a principle witness against her, recently died! She now expects a triumphant vindication.

Assemblyman Brinkley's bill to permit persons physically disabled to have assistance in making out their ballots, other than officers of election, should be promptly killed. It is an attack on the purity of the ballot.

John L. Sullivan has been asked by a gentleman interested in temperance work to pose as a "horrible example." What else has the Bostonian been doing for fifteen years?
